There are some theatrical attractions that are not affected in the least degree by the shifting public taste and humor; one of these is "Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin," the great standard American drama that has retained its hold upon the public for over a decade. Its first production took place in the Troy museum quite a number of years ago. After this it was produced in the old National theatre, Chatham street, New York, in January, 1853, where it enjoyed a three year's run to enormous business. It will be presented at the opera house this evening by Stetson's big company, an organization long known to be superior in every way and one which is ever popular with the throngers. ### SUICIDE AT LACONIA.

Mrs. Julia A. Perkins Dies from Asphyxiation.

Laconia, March 11.—Mrs. Julia A. Perkins, aged 68 years, committed suicide at her home, 12 Wakeman court, Saturday afternoon by asphyxiation. Mrs. Perkins had been despondent for the last two months, and on last Tuesday left her home and was missing for two days when she was found by her adopted daughter, Miss Bessie Perkins, at the home of a friend in Lakeport. Again Thursday evening she left the house and walked to Tilton, a distance of 10 miles. She was brought home Friday noon and seemed to be in much better spirits.

Saturday morning Miss Perkins left her mother at home and went to her work. Returning at noon she could not enter the house, all the doors and windows being fastened. About 3 o'clock Superintendent Brockington of the gas company was notified that gas was leaking at 12 Wakeman court. Mr. Brockington broke into the basement and turned off the meter, and with City Marshal J. M. Guay searched the house and found the door of the small bedroom on the second floor locked. They broke it open, and Mrs. Perkins' body was found lying on the bed in her nightgown. Dr. W. H. True was summoned and said the woman had been dead several hours. The gas in the radiator and jet had been turned wide open. Medical Examiner H. S. Bickford of Belmont was called and pronounced death due to asphyxiation.

Mrs. Perkins had been a resident of this city for a number of years. She is survived by the adopted daughter, Miss Bessie M. Perkins, and a cousin, Mrs. R. S. Libby of this city.
